ULTERIOR MOTIVES

Perhaps it is not personal ambition to achieve the presidency of Columbia university but whatever the score, conservative Dean William Fletcher Russel is having a bad time explaining his reasons for (1) last year retiring Professor William Head Kilpatrick, one of the greatest of liberal educators, and a month ago (2) announcing that New College, famed experimental undergraduate institution, would be closed at the end of the year.

As New College students and faculty last week indignantly organized committees, with slogans and verse campaigned to keep their college open, many an educator wondered whether Teachers College's pioneering influence over U. S. education was beginning to crack up. Progressive Education Association's directors urged T. C. not to drop "one of the most important experiments . . . in teachers' education." Cried New College's faculty: "The passing of New College will destroy the position of Teachers College as a leader. . . ."

TEAPOT TEMPEST

Chagrined members of the Paris post of the British Legion were told by their officials that it would be "impossible" to invite the Duke and Duchess of Windsor to their annual dinner. British legionnaires were further irked when the Duke and Duchess accepted an invitation to Thanksgiving dinner from the American Legion.

IRKED

Not everyone shared in the general jubilation at the recent signing of the reciprocal trade pacts with Canada and Great Britain. Although it was generally conceded the trade agreements would hurt various individual concerns, Wall Street and the Government predicted that the broad revival of international trade could not help but benefit U. S. industry as a whole.

Loudest groans against the agreements came from textile manufacturers in New England, farmers in Old England. Because concessions to English producers of finer cotton goods and woollens would probably hurt New England's none-to-flourishing textile industry, Governor George D. Aiken of Vermont sardonically remarked: "It looks like a plan to turn New England into a solely recreation area."

On the other hand, British farmers complained because Britain, already the principal outlet for U. S. farm goods, abolished duties on U. S. wheat, corn (except flat white), lard, certain canned fruits and fruit juices, and reduced by as much as one-third the duties on rice, apples, pears, other canned fruits. Britain also boosted the quota for hams and gave guarantees that ham and cotton would remain duty free.

XMAS THEATER
PARTY PLANNED
FOR CHILDRENRepresentatives Of Local Organizations Present
At Committee Meet

The city, chamber of commerce and local organizations plan to be host to 2000 children or more on Friday afternoon, December 23, at a gala party at Daly City Theater.

An excellent childrens feature picture, shorts, and stage shows by the Golden Gate Conservatory of Music, Miss Rose Dance Studios, and Erna Slee Studios is being arranged by the committee. Candy canes or some other appropriate gift will be distributed to children at the party.

Ten organizations beside the city and chamber of commerce have made appropriations to finance the affair. It is hoped that more groups will participate.

LOCAL OFFICER WINS
90-MILE-HOUR CHASE

Officer, Ricco Benedetti won a 90-mile-an-hour chase down Junipero Serra boulevard and El Camino Real recently and cited George Young, Vallejo motorist, on charges of reckless driving. Benedetti, riding his motorcycle, was passed by the speeding motorist, he reported. He gave chase down the traffic-crowded highway and followed the motorist almost to San Bruno. Young posted bail and was ordered to appear December 2 before Judge Wade Clay.

In listing contributors to the Halloween carnival in The Record last week, the Jefferson Union high school P. T. A. was unintentionally omitted. The high school P. T. A. did make a financial appropriation to the community Halloween carnival held October 31.

Woman Delegate
To Lima Conclave

MRS. BURTON W. MUSSER

Mrs. Burton W. Musser, Salt Lake City, whom President Roosevelt appointed as a delegate to the eighth Pan-American conference in Lima, Peru. Also bound for the conference was Secretary of State Cordell Hull, who prior to sailing voiced the belief that the confab offered "a solid cause for hope in a world threatened by despair."

'Edna His Wife'
Opens Monday
At Curran

An early and mounting demand for tickets for the forthcoming San Francisco engagement of Cornelia Otis Skinner in "Edna His Wife," gives indication that the famous Broadway star will be greeted by unusually large audiences at the Curran theater during the week beginning Monday, December 5.

Hundreds of out-of-town orders have been received for the attraction, which comes to the Pacific Coast on its cross-country tour from New York.

"Edna His Wife" has been hailed by critics as one of the most remarkable acting feats in the theater. Miss Skinner not only plays the title role, but also enacts seven other major characters in the drama. The plot revolves about the frustration of a small town girl who marries a brilliant young lawyer, only to discover with the passing years that she is without the spiritual and intellectual equipment to share his rise to fortune.

Miss Skinner herself adapted the play from a best-selling novel by Margaret Ayer Barnes, Pulitzer Prize author. The production, in two acts and eleven scenes, was designed by Donald Oenslager, whose scenic investiture of "I'd Rather Be Right" and "Of Mice and Men" contributed much to those New York hits of the past season. A special musical score enhances the action of "Edna His Wife," which ranges in locale from the little town of Blue Island, Illinois, to Chicago, Washington, and finally to a Park avenue penthouse.

Local residents who plan to see this much-discussed attraction are advised to obtain tickets at once and avoid possible disappointment later.

Estimate 95,000
County Population

Population of San Mateo County at the beginning of 1939 will be 95,000 it is estimated, according to a study of the population of California counties, just made public by California Taxpayers Association. The estimate for January 1, 1939, shows an approximate increase of 17,600 persons over the 1930 census population of 77,405 and is an estimated increase of 23 per cent during the nine years since the Federal census was taken.

Population of the entire state is estimated by the association at 6,940,000, an estimated increase of 22 per cent over the 1930 census of 5,677,251 persons. This, the association points out, is an estimated 2.3 per cent increase compounded annually during the present decade. The population of California, according to the taxpayers' estimate, is increasing at a rate higher than that over the United States as a whole, due to the migration into the state during the present decade.

Development Of Vista
Grande Park Area Is Now Well Under Way

To make a place of beauty, rest, and recreation where once was a barren waste. That will be the result of a $20,000 WPA project now under way at Vista Grande Park. Sixty-five men are at work on the job under Supervisor J. A. Perkins.

Work was started on the project two months ago and will not be completed till summer of next year. Particular items to be included in the job are the erection of a 4-foot concrete and rubble bulwark around the entire lower level of the park, a 3-foot drainage gutter to skirt the bulwark, a complete underground drainage system, and the construction of a field house in which will be located locker space, showers and toilets.

Work is about 80 per cent complete on the drainage system and bulwark along the southern portion of the lower level is nearly finished.

Future plans include the laying out of a baseball diamond on the lower level and turfing the entire area, planting trees along the western border and the laying out of tennis courts on the second level of the park. It is hoped that eventually bleachers may be built on the natural amphitheater sides of the park.

Before the current project is entirely finished the city hopes to secure further cooperation from the federal government in setting up another project for additional development.

Vista Grande Park was given to the city as a recreational area. Its development is welcomed by residents here.

COUNCIL PASS
UNIFORM CODE
BUILDING LAWOrdinance To Provide Pay
For Firemen Passed
By 3-2 Vote

Daly City council passed two ordinances at a regular meeting Monday evening of this week. One law adopting a uniform building code provided with "teeth" was passed unanimously. A second measure for compensation of fire companies and setting $50 per month pay for the fire chief rode through on a 3-2 vote. Councilmen Selmi, Sundermann and Twisten voted in favor of the ordinance. Councilmen Cavagnaro and Fahey voted against the issue.

An ordinance establishing a set back building line on School street came up for a first reading.

The council appropriated $50 for the community Christmas childrens party to be held December 23 at Daly City Theater. Councilman Cavagnaro was appointed to serve on the general Christmas committee.

A communication from El Carmelo Parlor, Native Sons of the Golden West, requested that their organization be permitted to participate in dedication ceremonies of the new city hall and stated their intention of giving an American flag to the city on that occasion. Their request was granted.

By motion the city engineer was instructed to prepare plans for the installation of traffic lights on Mission at Market street in southern Daly City.

Calls Fire Drill
At Right Time

Fire Chief Chesney called a fire drill at just exactly the right time Tuesday evening. During routine drill and instruction a fire alarm was pulled at Hillcrest drive and Santa Barbara avenue.

Firemen were on their way even before exact location of the blaze had been determined. From the alarm box they spotted the fire at 20 Vendome avenue, home of Mrs. E. Hosner.

Started by the explosion of a gasoline stove the fire had spread rapidly and was blazing furiously when firemen arrived. Battling flames and smoke for more than one-half hour companies No. 1, 2, 3, and 6 controlled and extinguished the conflagration.

Keep The Fifth
Man Alive

During the first three-quarters of 1938, safe driving and careful walking have cut down last year's traffic deaths in the United States, by 20 per cent, according to the National Safety Council.

We are now in the last month of the fourth quarter. If we can continue to keep the fifth man alive during December, it will mean a total saving of about 8,000 lives.

Can we do it? It will not be easy because December is the most hazardous month of the year for traffic. More hours of darkness, bad weather, slippery pavements, and the holiday rush are accident-makers. Over a five-year period the December toll was 30 per cent greater than the year-long monthly average.

You, THE INDIVIDUAL, can help in this nation-wide year-end campaign. Resolve now to drive with care and good judgment, to walk with common sense. Let's keep the fifth man alive!

SAN MATEO COUNTY TRAFFIC SAFETY COMMISSION

Building Permits
Hit High Mark

Second highest month of construction in the records of the San Mateo County Building Inspector's office was assured November when the addition of the $180,000 permit for a new Millbrae Highlands grammar school brought the total to $656,020.

December, 1937, permits soared to $935,700, to surpass by far any previous mark, but that sum was made possible by the filing of the permit for the Visitation Valley "cow palace," which exceeded $750,000.

This month's total has been made possible by the start of construction on an addition to the Veteran's Administration Facility in North Palo Alto, estimated at $265,000, as well as the Millbrae school, which will be located on Taylor boulevard.

Previous high this year was October, when total valuation reached $226,850.

T. B. Costs County
$100,000 Annually

San Mateo county spends $100,000 annually to control tuberculosis, according to Dr. Charles C. Gans, county health director, in his weekly health bulletin. Of this amount the county spends $65,000, the balance coming from private organizations, he estimated.

"A declining national tuberculosis death rate for the year 1937 has recently been reported by the New York Tuberculosis and Health Association," the bulletin says. "The average decrease in the tuberculosis death rate was 5 per cent under 1936. San Mateo County's death rate for tuberculosis is and has been for many years almost 50 per cent lower than the average for the state and nation."

Dr. Gans gave major credit for the achievement to the various charity institutions which have been in existence for many years.

The bulletin reported thirteen new cases of communicable disease in the county, none of which was tuberculosis. Venereal diseases accounted for 8 of the new cases, chicken pox for 4, and scarlet fever, 1.

Car Sales Indicate
Business Upswing

An indication of the upswing in business conditions was pointed out today by M. J. Soldavini, manager of Belli Motor Company, local Chevrolet dealers, when he announced that sales of Chevrolets throughout the United States were approximately 28 per cent above comparative sales of last year.

Soldavini said that the present optimistic outlook of buyers in general will have a great deal to do with increasing sales and better business conditions over the entire nation.

Heads St. Francis
Statue Movement

DR. C. B. HOLBRECHT

Dr. Charles B. Holbrecht, national officer of the Third Order of St. Francis and well known San Francisco civic leader, who was appointed chairman of the St. Francis of Assisi Monument Commission. The commission intends to erect a massive statue to that saint on one of San Francisco's prominent hills. The monument will be 191 feet high and will be erected during the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition.

8500 Families
Show Interest
In Peninsula

There are at least 8,500 San Francisco families, with incomes enabling them to pay the equivalent of $50 a month or more rental, who are immediate "prospects" for Peninsula homes: These 8,500 families have actually considered moving down The Peninsula.

This is one of the significant facts revealed in a survey recently completed in the metropolitan area by San Francisco Peninsula, Inc., according to Frank H. Fetter of Half Moon Bay, a director.

"These 8,500 families," said Fetter, "represent a projection of 1,700 personal interviews in terms of total families of this income class. Conclusions therefore may be accepted as accurate within minor degrees of variation."

"We asked these Peninsula-minded San Franciscans why they had not moved. Their answers, in themselves, comprise a fascinating story, too complex to include here. But they clearly indicate the 'Copy appeals' which we shall use to help develop the entire peninsula and protect present property values, when the peninsula's community advertising starts early in 1939."

Fetter added that the survey reveals a "golden opportunity" to win new residents, with profit to all business concerns and property owners of the Coastside (whose recreational and agricultural opportunities will be stressed in the forthcoming advertising) as well as those in Bay-side residential and commuting areas from Daly City to northern Santa Clara county.

"If we don't get these desirable new families, many of whom expressed definite intention of moving out of the big city, then the Eastbay and Marin county, with their new bridges, will gain at our expense," he concluded. "San Francisco Peninsula, Inc. is going after them!"

County FHA Record
Receives Praise

San Mateo county won praise Tuesday night from Federal Housing Administration official executives as being an area with an excellent record for property loans.

Two hundred thirty-five county real estate dealers, representatives of lending institutions, supplies dealers, architects, county planners and city planners from various communities and others interested in suburban home development heard the praise at a meeting at San Mateo Junior College Auditorium.

Held under the joint sponsorship of FHA and Burlingame-San Mateo Real Estate Board, the meeting featured a talk by Charles D. Clark, western planning consultant for FHA.

Other speakers included Charles A. Russell, M. A. Strange, K. C. Leggett.

TURF PATRONS
SEE MUDDERS
LEAVE POSTRain Closes 15 Days Good
Weather And Fast Racing
At Tanforan

After 15 straight racing days on a fast track San Francisco finally presented its turf patrons a muddy course. Trainers guiding mud runners had almost despaired of ever getting them to the post. Such a "fast track" run in fall season is almost without precedent in these parts.

Now the student of mud—its density, chemical contents etc., can fret himself into a stupor, for the mudders are here—and the straight run on a fast track is broken.

During those 15 days on the fast—many were the notable happenings. Passing in quick review—one recalls—

Comet II won his second straight—softest style, beating Polvos Prince by yards, eased up. Polvo, after shaking off the effects of this defeat won galloping at Tanforan, making Comet's race all the more noteworthy. Comet now prepares secretly for a route.

Aldicator proved a generous good thing, trimming Danfield in his first outing since Chicago.

Jocky Allan Gray fell after a race, breaking a collar bone.

Mask and Wig broke like a thunderbolt to beat all the best Western juveniles, in his first appearance on Pacific Coast.

Ligaroti bore 130 pounds to win undisputed colt sprint championship—by downing Dogaway and Lavengro.

Main Man asserted strong claim to western route title by packing 124 pounds to clever victory over Sweepalot and Advocate.

Parscout outcharged 4 to 5 shot Sweepalot in the Yerba Buena.

Sir Ridgway came to life, a n d proved a repeater in new hands.

Routine got to rolling in time to annex another for Mayer in Thanksgiving day handicap.

First Kiss blasted her way into sprint authority by trimming good ones in 1.10 4-5—leaving the South American Olimpo, making his debut, a well beaten but not disgraced fourth.

Johnny Adams and Johnny Longden entered into their stretch duel for the American championship.

Mt. Vernon II, running for Raoul Walsh scored a coup of national proportions. Trying a distance for the first time the three year old French colt spattered dust in the faces of a goodly lot, prancing homeward safely. Checks were down length of the land.

—These are only a few of the major happenings in the San Francisco battle sector during the 15 day spell on the dry.

—What brings the mud?

State University Needs Buildings

With its student body increased by 30 per cent in six years, the University of California has received nothing in the nature of legislative appropriation for needed buildings; with an increase of 47 per cent since 1925-27, it has had but a million and a quarter from the state for buildings.

These facts were pointed out yesterday by President Robert G. Sproul in outlining the needs on all the major campuses of the university for more buildings to house academic activities. Should the present rate of increase in enrollment continue, as he says it is almost certain to do, there will be an enrollment in the two years of the next biennium approximating 60,000.

"While we have a building program under way which we can finance if we receive assistance from the Public Works Administration," says Dr. Sproul, "we apparently will have aid for no more than three buildings, but if all eight are built they will not fill our need, by any means. Students continue to seek education at the University of California, and to accommodate them we must have buildings as well as an augmented faculty and increased support.

"Up to the present time we have managed by taking advantage of every square foot of space in our buildings, by limiting enrollment in some classes and decreasing the number of classes wherever possible to a good job. But we have reached the end of our resources. The state must recognize our needs and grant us not only increased support in proportion to our student load, but also adequate academic housing facilities to care for the present thousands of students, and for the added thousands we are certain to have next year and in future years beyond that."

CALIFORNIA SPEAKS

Significant Statements By Interesting Californians

MERLE OBERON, Hollywood screen star—"I don't understand income-tax reports, and I don't think anybody else understands them."

DR. SHAILER MATTHEWS, authority on international relations and former U. of Calif. lecturer—"I've grown suspicious of easy solutions of social questions. Ignorance is always so sure of itself."

COL. O. P. M. HAZZARD, U. S. Army, retired—"Members of the United States foreign service have a patience surpassing that of a Job. They are abused by everyone, but they stand the gaff better than any other official group."

JERRY WALLACE, S. F. attorney—"The way cocksure 'experts' keep missing the mark in their positive predictions—whether on politics, horse-racing or football—makes all the more forcible Will Rogers' homely remark: 'We're all ignorant—only on different subjects!'"

CHAS. H. UPTON, federal probation and parole officer for northern Calif.—"Of all men paroled or placed on probation in the United States, 93 per cent make good. Only 7 per cent make crime news. Properly supervised parole has proved its case—but cannot advertise its successes."

PATRICIA LINDSAY, S. F. columnist—"There isn't a man or a woman who hasn't bitten the dust at least once during a life—and the better persons they are for having had a mouthful of it!"

MONSIGNOR CHARLES A. RAMM, S. F.—"I think our knowledge, particularly of the facts and forces of nature, has far outrun our moral control and use of them."

L. A. GIRL, overheard while visiting an aquarium with girl chum—"Look here, Gracie! Here's that fish that looks like Elwood!"

Income Reflected In Automobile Use

The more money you make the farther you drive your car each year.

This was the finding of a special federal survey, according to a report received from Washington this week by the California State automobile association.

The survey was made by the Department of Agriculture and covered cities, towns, and villages throughout the United States, the report said.

In the cities it was found that cars owned by families in the lowest income-group studied, those earning from $250 to $500 annually, were driven an average of 2,024 miles yearly, while the cars owned by families in the highest income-group studied, from $5,000 to $10,000, were driven an average of 10,680 miles a year, more than five times as far.

In the villages, the lowest income-group drove their cars an average of 1,630 miles annually and the highest, 11,389 miles. On the farms families earning from practically nothing to $250 annually drove their cars an average of 2,011 miles for the twelve-month period, while the wealthiest of the rural dwellers drove an average of 8,476 miles.

Particularly interesting were the findings as to car ownership among the lowest income-group. It was found that 41 per cent of the city families and 37 per cent of the village families in the $250-$500 income group owned automobiles, while 43 per cent of the farm families earning from nothing at all to not more than $250 a year counted a car among their possessions.

Dr. Gans Announces Free Diagnosis

Free diagnosis and treatment of venereal diseases are now available in five general clinics in San Mateo County, Dr. Charles C. Gans, county health officer, announces.

In accordance with standards of the California State Department of Public Health, all applicants, regardless of income, are admitted for diagnosis and emergency treatment. Persons able to pay are referred to private physicians. Continued treatment is given medically indigent patients without regard to their place of legal residence.

Clinics which are operated by the county health department are held once a week with 9 a.m. until noon the hours in three of the treatment centers. They are: Burlingame, 248 Lorton street, Friday; Daly City, 7375 Mission street, Monday; Redwood City, 851 Main street, Wednesday.

The clinic in Half Moon Bay is held Thursdays in the office of Dr. Roswell D. Borley starting at 10 a.m. An evening clinic is held in San Mateo at the Community Hospital on Thursdays from 5:30 to 7 p.m.

Dr. H. C. Pulley, state physician assigned to San Mateo and Santa Clara counties, is assisting with the program.

Patients should attend the clinic which is open at a convenient hour and locality, Dr. Gans pointed out. A patient living in Burlingame who could not attend the clinic there on Friday mornings would be admitted to another clinic.

"First result of the new clinics will be to increase the amount of syphilis and gonorrhea found in San Mateo County," Dr. Gans said.

"For every patient under treatment for a venereal disease, there exists another who is in need of treatment and not receiving it. The cause may be due to ignorance of his infection or lack of money for treatment. Hidden cases must be discovered before syphilis and gonorrhea can be brought under control."

OUTDOOR RECREATION FACILITIES INCREASED

National Emergency Council announced recently through Donald Renshaw, state director of California, that facilities for outdoor recreational activities in California have been increased by the provision, through WPA projects, of 36 new athletic fields, 41 playgrounds, 26 new swimming and wading pools, 5 golf courses, 236 tennis courts, and 71 new parks. Improvements have been made in 380 existing athletic fields and playgrounds and 120 parks.

WPA non-construction projects have also contributed materially to public welfare in California. Sewing room projects have produced approximately 5,600,000 garments and other articles for men, women, and children in need. More than 5,000,000 hot lunches have been served to school children; and housekeeping aides, employed by WPA, have made over 345,000 home visits to families in need of such assistance. About 2,328,000 public school and library books have been rebound and renovated.

Medicos Seek Means Of Lowering Cost

Sharp pencils have replaced the proverbial scalpel in the hands of leading doctors today as they seek ways of reducing the cost of being ill.

At continued meetings under way in the Bay area and in the South, special committee members of the California Medical association are working out details of the contemplated plan whereby doctor and hospital care will be provided at low cost for a majority of wage earners and their families.

The hospital bill problem has already been solved to the satisfaction of the doctors, they said. Organization facilities of non-profit groups now operating in hospitalization insurance throughout the state will be utilized. These are the Insurance Association of Approved Hospitals in the San Francisco-Central California territory; Intercoast Association in Sacramento Valley; and Associated Hospital Service of Southern California.

The three hospitalization groups are also holding meetings to co-ordinate their policies and procedures so that they can act as the agencies through which the combined medical-hospital plan will be offered to the public.

Actual cost of the new insurance has not yet been set, except as regards hospitalization. The latter charge will probably be three cents per day, or ninety cents per month for employed persons, the rate now charged in the Bay area by the Insurance Association of Approved Hospitals.

Amount of the premiums for medical care is yet to be determined, according to Dr. Karl L. Schaupp, chairman of the council of the California Medical association and vice-president of the local Insurance Association of Approved Hospitals.

"The house of delegates of our state medical group will meet in Los Angeles, December 17," said Dr. Schaupp. "At that time we hope to have recommendations and general information from our special committee working on this problem, sufficient to allow the program of medical insurance to be put into effect."

Giannini Reports Business Revival

During the past weeks, business interests the country over have acquired an entirely new outlook on the future.

This message was brought to San Francisco early this week by A. P. Giannini, chairman of the board of Bank of America, on his return from the recent national convention of the American Bankers Association in Houston, Texas.

He declared that an exchange of ideas with bankers from all over the nation revealed that business is definitely in a "Go Ahead" frame of mind.

"There has been a conspicuous change in sentiment within recent weeks," said the founder of the country's largest branch banking system. "Not so long ago the visitor from the Pacific Coast found a general air of discouragement over the East and South. Now, the business atmosphere seems to have cleared, and the new spirit of confidence is like a tonic."

He added that it was also evident that bankers everywhere were extending themselves to supply the financial needs of business.

"While none of the bankers are relaxing vigilance for the safety of deposits and the soundness of their loans," Mr. Giannini said, "they definitely are disposed to extend aid to business and industry to the maximum permitted by state and federal regulations, and to an extent consistent with wisdom. Barring accidents of worldwide proportions, America is without doubt in for a revival of wholesale progress."

Insurance Association of Approved Hospitals. For this, and lower charges for dependents, hospital care is provided in thirty-nine hospitals.

Amount of the premiums for medical care is yet to be determined, according to Dr. Karl L. Schaupp, chairman of the council of the California Medical association and vice-president of the local Insurance Association of Approved Hospitals.

"The house of delegates of our state medical group will meet in Los Angeles, December 17," said Dr. Schaupp. "At that time we hope to have recommendations and general information from our special committee working on this problem, sufficient to allow the program of medical insurance to be put into effect."

SHOP AT HOME—AT CHRISTMAS

The urge to start Christmas buying is here. Store windows are beginning to sparkle with the colorful trappings of Christmas. A gift-season dash brightens up the advertisements; there's holly in the air, and all is ready for the reign of Santa Claus.

Our merchants are cooperating in a delightful conspiracy we all applaud and enjoy. Christmas savings are now in circulation. For the next few weeks, we will all have the same thought—Christmas buying.

Shall we spend our Christmas money in our own community or should we go elsewhere to make our purchases? We make no appeal to support community stores just as a civic duty. True, money spent here goes to build purchasing power here; to help our tradesmen and clerks, our farmers and merchants. But that, perhaps, is not enough. We want the best price and the best quality; we want all our dollars can buy.

There can be no quarrel with anyone's desire for full value. But we are confident that, if you compare the goods our merchants display—on the cold basis of dollars and cents value—with the goods of bigger stores in larger cities, you will find that local enterprise and business efficiency more than meet the big-city competition.

Local stores have lower overhead, allowing a lower percentage of profit. And you have the added satisfaction of knowing that money spent at home means a greater measure of prosperity at home.

Look into the local shop windows, read the advertisements. You will find that the local merchants can serve you well. They have price and they have quality—and gay-colored ribbons and the Christmas spirit to wrap the packages in. They're home folks, too.

Let's shop at home this Christmas.

SHORT TALKS

By Lloyd E. Ellis

LIVING A NEW LIFE

"Like as Christ was raised from the dead through the glory of the Father, so we also might walk in newness of life." Rom. 6:4.

When one becomes a Christian, he is separated from his old sins. They are no longer a part of his life. He enters into a new life and cannot afford to live as he had been living before. If he is to please his heavenly Father he must now manifest a different way of conducting himself as he walks along his earthly journey. If, after becoming a Christian, he turns again to follow his former footsteps and to tread again the forbidden paths wherein he walked before, God will be displeased with him.

Disapproval of God means that one will finally be rejected unless the thing which causes the disapproval be removed. Upon becoming a follower of Christ, therefore, one cannot afford to live any longer in his former way of life. He must leave off the doing of things which are contrary to the will of God, and live close to God by keeping his commandments.

Then, as Christ, who was raised up by the glory of the Father, lives forever and is no more subject to the distresses of his former life, so the Christian should turn from his old life and be guided by the eternal light of God's word which will lead him to endless life.

"To Combat Autocracy of Both Classes and Masses"

A government of the people, by the people, for the people is not possible wherever class rules; nor is it possible where mass rules. We are apt to forget that the tyranny of one is as dangerous as the tyranny of the other. Let us strive at all times to defeat control of our government by either class or mass. Only a government that insures the rights of all people, all of the time, can be a just and democratic government.

The Housewives' Corner

MEATS

New ways of serving meats are always welcome to the busy housewife. Two suggestions are listed below. Anyone who has a favorite recipe for preparing meat dishes (or any other foods) is cordially invited to send it to The Daly City Record for publication.

VEAL BIEDS

Bacon Strips
Veal Strips
Cream Sauce

Cut thin strips of veal the size of bacon. Put bacon inside of veal. Roll lightly; fasten with toothpicks; place in casserole; cover with cream sauce. Cook slowly for three hours. In center of platter put mushrooms and chicken livers that have been creamed.

BEEF LOAF

3 pounds ground beef
1/4 loaf of bread soaked in
1 1/2 cups of milk
2 raw eggs
1 medium size onion, ground
1 green pepper, ground
1 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon celery seed

Mix, form in loaf, cover with thin strips of bacon. Pour over all one can of tomato soup. Bake about two hours.

Mrs. Sybil Zerga of Brunswick street, Mrs. Grace Bacigalupi and son and Mrs. D. Johnston of Mission street recently visited Mrs. Henry Price of St. Mary's Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Coleman of Crocker avenue had as guests Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. "Happy" Ferron and "Lucky" Frenchie of San Francisco.

Appetizers

One of the more interesting phases of modern cookery is the return to the continental custom of "appetizers." These are tasty appetite teasers served before dinner with cocktails; or as the first course at dinner or luncheon; or as part of the buffet style service for evening refreshments.

Especially appropriate just now at the holiday season is the mixed hors d'oeuvre for buffet style serving. It usually consists of from half-dozen to a dozen savory and highly seasoned foods, served on large trays or plates from which the guests help themselves. Crackers, tiny bread-and-butter sandwiches or some hard, crusty breads should be available.

When grouping the foods into combinations, it is well to select a salad, a pickle or relish, some variety of fish, a selection of cold meats, and something containing anchovies each time. Groupings of six foods are most common although for large buffet parties, groupings of twelve are frequently used.

Recipes for several Hors D'Oeuvre items follow:

HOT LOBSTER HORS D'OEUVRE
Make a very thick white sauce and let cool. To this add fresh lobster, spread thickly on rounds of toast and sprinkle with grated yellow cheese. Brown quickly in broiler and serve hot.

TOOTHPICK TEASERS

Wrap large, stuffed olives in fried bacon (1/2 slice each), fasten with toothpick.

STUFFED CELERY

Wash and soak celery in cold water. Dry, chill and cut into inch-and-a-half lengths. Stuff with pimiento cream cheese, or minced ham mixed with mayonnaise.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

DOOR MATS

A sturdy door mat at the back door as well as the front will save a lot of floor scrubbing in the kitchen when the back-yard is muddy.

A colorful and practical mat for the backdoor can be made with 4 strips of thick-but asphalt shingle roofing material 12 inches wide by 36 inches long and a board that is 12 inches wide, 3 feet long and 3/4 of an inch thick. The shingles should be nailed solidly to the board with galvanized nails 3/4 of an inch long so that they overlap each other 10 inches and two inches of each strip is left exposed. The new mat should then be nailed to the back door step.

The shingles don't come with the word "welcome" written across them but can be bought in red, blue, green, brown, gray and mixed colors, all bright, cheerful hues that spell welcome in themselves.

ESTATE OF COLMA WIDOW PROBATED

Disposing of an estate valued in excess of $10,000, the will of Mrs. Maria Olcese, 76, Colma widow who died November 18, was filed for probate in superior court Saturday.

Mrs. Olcese left $2000 each to four grandsons, Richard, William, George and Silvio Olcese Jr., and the residue in equal shares to five children, Angelo, John, Attilio and Dominic Olcese, and Mrs. Angelina Salio.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sullivan and daughter Sheila, Mrs. Joseph Bacigalupi and son and Mrs. Kathryn Phelan visited Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. D. Johnston of Mission street.

CHILDREN'S BOOKS

However unhappy the world in general may be, in the charmed circle of children's literature the light of lovely laughter is to be heard. Better photography, drawings and engraving make this year's children's stories a delight to youngsters and grown-ups as well.

No more lasting Christmas gift can be imagined than a book. Long after the attractions of the other Christmas toys have palled, a choice book will be making some boy or girl laugh or thrill to the adventures of a story-book character.

A few suggestions in books are listed below:

Fairies and Dwarfs

And Funny Animals

"Barbar and His Children," story and pictures by Jean de Brunhoff.
"Orlando the Marmalade Cat," story and pictures by Kathleen Hale.
"Barkis," story and pictures by Claire Newberry.

"Black, White and Caroline," by Susan Ertz.

"Alice-Albert Elephant," by Marjorie Hayes.

For the Less-Than-Seven-Year-Old's

"The Pig That Danced a Jig," by Katharine D. Morse.

"The Little Airplane," story and pictures by Lois Lenski.

"Alexander's Christmas Eve," by Marjorie Knight (for the littlest little ones who still believe in Santa Claus).

And, of course, there are dozens and dozens of others. One caution—be sure to match the ages of the child with the age-group appeal of the book choice. Nothing is quite so disheartening as a very active, adventure-adoring lad receiving a fairy story or a very little girl burdened with "a big girl's story book."

TREATED AT VILLA

The following accident victims received treatment at Villa hospital recently:

Frankie Gunn, 169 Westlake avenue, for wrist injury. Scoutmaster Straughan administered first aid to the boy before he was brought to the hospital.

Glen McCaffey, 214 Junipero avenue, South San Francisco, for an eye injury incurred when a toy gun exploded and flying glass struck him.

Raymond Sisk, 78 Sala Terrace, San Francisco, the victim of a "ride" and dumped at Olivet cemetery. Sisk suffered from shock and exposure.

Mrs. Pearl Jones of Vista Grande avenue and Mrs. Gertrude Jones of Templeton avenue attended the annual dinner of the Past Chiefs, Pythian Sisters, held Thursday evening at the Chateau cafe, San Francisco.

Mrs. Viola Callan of San Diego avenue and daughters Shirley and Arlene have been confined to their home the past week and under the doctor's care suffering from severe colds.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morrison of Evergreen avenue were dinner guests at the home of their son in the Crocker Amazon tract, San Francisco, Thanksgiving day.

Together Again

Ever since they astonished the world with their "Carioca" in "Flying Down to Rio," Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers have been the nation's leaders in creating memorable dances. "The Gay Divorcee" had its spectacular "Continental" and its romantic "Night and Day" dance. "Roberta" presented, among others, the "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" routine. "Top Hat" provided the sensational "Piccolino" and the languorous "Cheek to Cheek." "Follow the Fleet" brought "Face the Music" and "Let Yourself Go" numbers. "Swing Time" featured the lovely "Swing Waltz" and "Never Gonna Dance," and "Shall We Dance" revealed the romantic routine of the same name, as well as the "Rhythm Dance."

They dance on gigantic lily pads in the "Dream Dance" ROLICKING SITUATIONS IN "CAREFREE"

"Carefree" deals with stormy romance between Miss Rogers, an actress, Astaire, a psychiatrist, and Ralph Bellamy, a lawyer. Engaged to Miss Rogers, Bellamy sends her to Astaire for diagnosis when she keeps postponing their wedding date. She finds herself falling in love with Astaire, who, shocked, tries to switch her affections back to Bellamy—then discovers he is in love with her himself. He endeavors to change the situation again and is blocked by the results of his own hypnotic treatments and by the connivings of Bellamy, who has learned all and is trying to marry Miss Rogers in a hurry before Astaire can interfere.

Against this background of romantic complications, which form much the funniest framework of any of the Astaire-Rogers vehicles, sparkle a brilliant group of dance numbers, most of them in the distinctive setting of a luxurious country club.

Astaire, in his first step is sweeping the country. In "Carefree" is the great army of amateur dancers employed in ballroom routine.

Lively and joyous and tempting to the rhythm of the feet of old or young, here are some steps from "THE YAM."

A WEALTH OF SONG

United in "Carefree" after a separation of more than a year, Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers sing and dance five elaborate numbers to the tuneful Irving Berlin compositions. The song numbers are:

- "The Night Is Filled With Music," sung and danced by Astaire and Miss Rogers in the ballroom of a smart country club.
- "I Used To Be Color Blind," a romantic ballad used as the basis of the unique "dream" dance on lily pads in a fantastic setting.
- "The Yam," fast novelty dance tune with lyrics.
- "Change Partners," a modern number with a brisk rhythm, used as the setting for the "quarrel" dance.
- "Since They Turned Loch Lomond Into Swing," the musical background for Astaire's trick golf dance.

Truck and shag and Susie Q;
Tap and stomp and swing-a-roo!
Wrap 'em up and holler "WHAM!"
Here's the heat wave called THE YAM.
Come on, Ginger! Hurry Fred!
Slap that floor and paint it red!
Sing it, swing it, make gloom scam--
Heal your feet and do THE YAM!

Eminent as a comedian, universally hailed as the stage and screen's most proficient dancer, FRED ASTAIRE blends his talents with an engaging personality that makes his appearance in any film a treat to the beholder.

IRVING BERLIN, unrivalled creator of heart-haunting popular melody and song, who has scored his third Astaire-Rogers film musical, "Carefree."

When grouping the foods into combinations, it is well to select a salad, a pickle or relish, some variety of fish, a selection of cold meats, and something containing anchovies each time. Groupings of six foods are most common although for large buffet parties, groupings of twelve are frequently used.

Recipes for several Hors D'Oeuvre items follow:

HOT LOBSTER HORS D'OEUVRE

Make a very thick white sauce and let cool. To this add fresh lobster, spread thickly on rounds of toast and sprinkle with grated yellow cheese. Brown quickly in broiler and serve hot.

TOOTHPICK TEASERS

Wrap large, stuffed olives in fried bacon (1/2 slice each), fasten with toothpick.

STUFFED CELERY

Wash and soak celery in cold water. Dry, chill and cut into inch-and-a-half lengths. Stuff with pimiento cream cheese, or minced ham mixed with mayonnaise.

Mrs. Sybil Zerga of Brunswick street, Mrs. Grace Bacigalupi and son and Mrs. D. Johnston of Mission street recently visited Mrs. Henry Price of St. Mary's Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Coleman of Crocker avenue had as guests Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. "Happy" Ferron and "Lucky" Frenchie of San Francisco.

D C FATHERS FORUM TO AWARD PENNANT

The pennant is on display at schools participating in the tournament. The Jefferson grammar five have a decided edge on their competitors and many fans believe they will easily win the tournament.

However unhappy the world in general may be, in the charmed circle of children's literature the lilt of lovely laughter is to be heard. Better photography, drawings and engraving make this year's children's stories a delight to youngsters and grown-ups as well.

No more lasting Christmas gift can be imagined than a book. Long after the attractions of the other Christmas toys have palled, a choice book will be making some boy or girl laugh or thrill to the adventures of a story-book character.

A few suggestions in books are listed below:

Fairies and Dwarfs And Funny Animals

"Barbar and His Children," story and pictures by Jean de Brunhoff. "Orlando the Marmalade Cat," story and pictures by Kathleen Hale. "Barkis," story and pictures by Claire Newberry.

"Black, White and Caroline," by Susan Ertz.

"Alice-Albert Elephant," by Marjorie Hayes.

For the Less-Than- Seven-Year-Old's

"The Pig That Danced a Jig," by Katharine D. Morse.

"The Little Airplane," story and pictures by Lois Lenski.

"Alexander's Christmas Eve," by Marjorie Knight (for the littlest little ones who still believe in Santa Claus).

And, of course, there are dozens and dozens of others. One caution—be sure to match the ages of the child with the age-group appeal of the book choice. Nothing is quite so disheartening as a very active, adventure-adoring lad receiving a fairy story or a very little girl burdened with "a big girl's story book."

TREATED AT VILLA

The following accident victims received treatment at Villa hospital recently:

Frankie Gunn, 169 Westlake avenue, for wrist injury. Scoutmaster Straughan administered first aid to the boy before he was brought to the hospital.

Glen McCaffey, 214 Junipero avenue, South San Francisco, for an eye injury incurred when a toy gun exploded and flying glass struck him.

Raymond Sisk, 78 Sala Terrace, San Francisco, the victim of a "ride" and dumped at Olivet cemetery. Sisk suffered from shock and exposure.

Mrs. Pearl Jones of Vista Grande avenue and Mrs. Gertrude Jones of Templeton avenue attended the annual dinner of the Past Chiefs, Pythian Sisters, held Thursday evening at the Chateau cafe, San Francisco.

Mrs. Viola Callan of San Diego avenue and daughters Shirley and Arlene have been confined to their home the past week and under the doctor's care suffering from severe colds.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morrison of Evergreen avenue were dinner guests at the home of their son in the Crocker Amazon tract, San Francisco, Thanksgiving day.

Plans will be made for the regular unit meeting which will be held Tuesday, December 13.

PEDESTRIANS

It is difficult to teach children to obey traffic lights when they see adults, and even their own parents, disobey them, according to the safety department of the National Automobile club. For personal safety and to teach children safe walking habits, adults should wait at the curb when the light is red and at unsignaled crossings, look both ways and be sure no traffic is dangerously near, before crossing. This extra caution takes but a moment but will save a life time.

Bank of America Manager Announces $23,518.75 For Local Savers

Merchants of Daly City will share in a statewide outpouring of Christmas funds which were released to members of the Bank of America Christmas Club throughout California yesterday, December 1.

According to Carl E. Newman, manager of Bank of America here, approximately $12,000,000 will be distributed to Christmas savers at the 494 branches of the bank in 307 California communities. This is over 26 per cent more than last year. In Daly City, the total distribution will be $23,518.75 to 443 local Christmas Club members.

It is estimated that 70 per cent of the money saved in this type of account goes immediately into trade channels. The remainder is re-invested in savings and securities.

Pointing to this year's all-time high mark for what is the largest Christmas Club in the United States, Manager Carl E. Newman remarked: "There is every reason to feel that the coming Christmas will be California's merriest in many years. Christmas Club savings represent one of the best possible guides to economic conditions."

Members of the Daly City Chamber of Commerce cordially invite local residents to do their Christmas shopping at home, for economy and convenience.

It's A Happy Union Again!

Separated for sixteen months for solo starring pictures, Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers are joyfully reunited in RKO Radio's sparkling musical spectacle, "Carefree," opening at the Daly City Theatre Sunday. Ralph Bellamy heads the rich comedy cast, and the entire proceedings are set to Irving Berlin's tantalizing melodies.

"Four's A Crowd" Will Be Second Big Attraction

Ginger Rogers took down her famous dancing shoes for "Carefree," which will play at the Daly City Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. She and Fred Astaire are reunited after a separation of more than a year. The flame-haired screen favorite temporarily discarded them to star in "Stage Door" and kept them hidden in the closet while she starred in "Vivacious Lady," and "Having Wonderful Time," both dramatic films, which demonstrated her versatility over and above dancing.

"Coming back into a musical in which I dance, is like putting on a favorite coat or dress which had been laid aside for the time being in favor of newer garments," said Miss Rogers. "Everything about it was familiar and easy, and made me feel at home. There is the thrill of newness, because I had been away from musicals for more than a year, and there was the charm of variety in changing back and forth from dramatic to musical pictures.

"It was rather like old home week too, on the set, with Irving Berlin dropping in to say 'Hello.' He wrote the music for 'Top Hat' and 'Follow

LUNCHEON PARTY TO HONOR ANDERSON

Congressman (elect) Jack Anderson will be guest of honor at a luncheon party at Villa Mateo Saturday, December 3, 1 p. m. Bradford Melvin, chairman of the Republican Central committee, and outstanding local Republican leader will attend.

The public is invited. Luncheon at regular Villa Mateo prices. Telephone reservations to Randolph 3636.

the Fleet," as well as for "Carefree." Then Mark Sandrich was directing; he is an old friend who directed four out of the six films in which Fred Astaire and I previously starred. Hermes Pan was on deck for the staging of the ensemble numbers, and almost every member of the technical crew had worked with me before. And this is the eighth joint picture for Fred Astaire and myself. If I may be excused for the pun, it was as "Carefree" as one could wish.

Second big feature attraction is "Four's A Crowd," with Errol Flynn, Olivia de Havilland, Rosalind Russell and Patric Knowles making up the stellar quadrangle, in the highly hilarious newspaper comedy which also opens Sunday at the Daly City theatre.

"ASSASSIN OF YOUTH" COMING TO CAPITOL

"Assassin of Youth," heralded as one of the most vivid exposes ever screened, comes to San Francisco for the first time when it opens today, Friday, for a week's engagement at the Capitol Follies. The film pictures with stark realism the terrifying effects of the dread drug, marijuana, that leads its victims into wild petting parties that stop at nothing. The story reveals the consequences of a moment of bliss, followed by a lifetime of regret.

ELECTRIC HEAT

is Plus Protection these cold, wet days

Every home should have one or two of these electric heaters now being offered on exceptionally easy purchase terms. The convenience of an electric heater during the seasons of sudden temperature changes makes it more than worth the first cost. The ability of a good electric heater to give forth an abundance of healthful warm air, quickly, and in operating economy more than saves its first cost in the days before "it is time to light a fire or start the furnace."

The electric heater you buy, however, deserves thoughtful consideration. You should get the right type of heater—one that is economical in operation. You will see four such electric heaters pictured here. Briefly, beware of a CHEAP electric heater. Buy a real quality product that is backed with a long term guarantee against heating element burn-out. All four of the heaters pictured here carry such a guarantee by the manufacturer.

Don't say, "I can't afford electric heat" or "Later on." You can afford it now. You do not have to wait. Buy your electric heater today while these easy purchase terms are in effect. You will be thankful a hundred times this winter!
